OSHA 30-Hour General Industry Course Coming in December

ECTC has scheduled an OSHA 30-hour General Industry course to be held on the Ben Hill-Irwin Campus in December. This course is designed for the general workforce seeking to familiarize themselves with the overall compliance regulations set forth by OSHA and is recommended for all employees tasked with leadership responsibilities for safety oversight, such as management, supervisors, and forepersons.

Typical topics may include, but are not limited to: OSHA General Regulations, Electrical Safety, Lockout/Tagout (controlling hazardous energy), Scaffold Safety, Ladders, Walking and Working Surfaces, Ergonomics, Fire Safety, Cranes and Rigging, Bloodborne Pathogens, Hearing Conservation, Violence in the Workplace, and Personal Protective Equipment. This course will be held on December 9, 10, and 11, from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. each day. The course fee is $400 per individual. For additional information or to register, contact Christy Cobb at (229) 468-2218 or ccobb@eastcentraltech.edu. This course is only offered twice a year, and seating is limited, so call soon to register!
